Report on the Awareness Session – GST 2.0 "Super GST, Super Savings"

The Department of Commerce and Economics organized an awareness session titled "GST 2.0 – Super GST, Super Savings" on 6th October 2025. The programme was aimed at enhancing knowledge about the upgraded GST framework and its benefits for businesses and consumers.

The event was presided over by Dr. T. Raja Rajeswari, Principal, who addressed the gathering and emphasized the importance of understanding tax reforms for economic growth. The Vice Principal and Department of Commerce In-charge Sri T. Krishna also shared valuable insights. Dr. Ch. Usha Rani, Head of the Department of Economics, highlighted the economic impact of GST 2.0, while Dr. V. Vijaya Lakshmi, Lecturer in Economics, spoke on the practical applications of the reforms.

The technical presentation was delivered by Sri D. Manamadha Rao, who explained the key features of GST 2.0, its compliance process, and how it could result in significant savings. The session also featured discussions moderated by Smt. P. Durgeswari, Lecturer in Commerce, Smt. B. Asha Jyothi, Lecturer in Commerce, and Smt. K. Swarna Latha, Lecturer in Commerce, who engaged the audience in interactive Q&A segments. Several faculty members, including Sri Ch. Ravi Kumar Lecturer in Computer Applications, Sri K. Pardsaradi Lecturer in History, and Sri K. Rohith Lecturer in Computer Applications, actively participated along with other staff members and students, contributing to the success of the programme.

Programme Outcomes

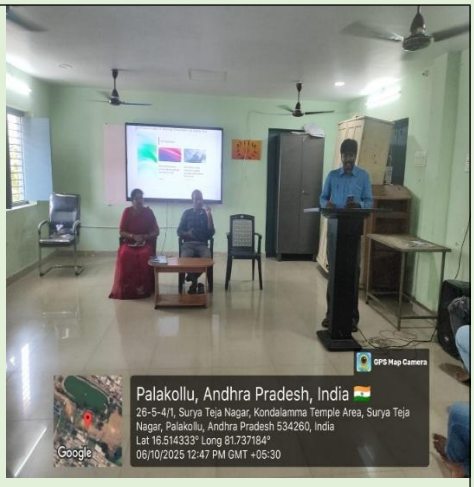

- Participants gained comprehensive knowledge about the new GST slab structure and its rationale aimed at reducing tax burdens on essential items and promoting economic inclusivity.
- Enhanced understanding of benefits for MSMEs, agriculture, and allied sectors, with an emphasis on how GST 2.0 boosts competitiveness and supports domestic manufacturing.
- Familiarity with simplified compliance and digital tools that reduce administrative burdens for businesses and consumers was increased.

Conclusion

The GST 2.0 awareness session successfully fulfilled its objectives of education and engagement by presenting a clear, accessible overview of the next-generation tax reforms. This programme played a critical role in preparing the academic community to adapt to and benefit from a simplified, efficient, and growth-oriented tax environment. The department's initiative contributes to building informed stakeholders who can support broader national goals of fiscal transparency, economic growth, and inclusive prosperity through GST 2.0.

Brief Report

The Department of Chemistry, in collaboration with LIONS Club International, Palakol Rural organised the World Climate Change Day (International Day of Climate Action) on 24 October 2025 at Sri A.S.N.M. Government College (A), Palakol.

Principal Dr. T. Raja Rajeswari, in her keynote address, highlighted the urgency of tackling adverse climatic changes and emphasised that India stands among the top ten nations with the largest forest-based carbon sinks. She stressed the need for collective global action to combat the climate crisis.

HoD of Chemistry Dr. V. Yamini explained the significance of United Nations and IPCC assessments, noting that global temperatures may rise by 1.5°C if corrective actions are not taken. She stressed the need to educate students on climate mitigation measures.

Another speaker, Mr. A. Vamsi, discussed India's proactive role in reducing fossil fuel dependence, controlling emission levels, and contributing effectively to global climate initiatives.

The Political Science Department along with NSS Units organised UN Day celebrations as part of the event. Oratorical competitions were conducted for students, with prizes sponsored by Rural Lions Club. The Palakol Municipality team conducted an awareness session on the Pura Mitra App, guiding students on civic responsibility and environmental monitoring.

The programme witnessed active participation from students, faculty, and various institutional committees.

Outcomes:

- Enhanced understanding of global environmental organisations such as the UN and IPCC.
- Increased student participation in sustainability and civic responsibility through NSS.
- Strengthened interdisciplinary collaboration between Chemistry, Political Science, and NSS units.
- Students gained awareness on climate change, carbon sinks, and India's climate policies.

Feedback:

Students expressed that the study tour significantly enhanced their understanding of hydrology, water analysis, and mangrove biodiversity. They appreciated the exposure to research facilities and natural ecosystems.

Conclusion:

The study tour provided valuable real-world exposure to hydrology and biodiversity conservation. The departments plan to organise more interdisciplinary field-based learning programmes to promote holistic scientific education.
